

IHG® Skills Academy

Here's why your business should become an

IHG Skills Academy Partner

The IHG Skills Academy

is a best-in-class digital learning platform. We've teamed up with hospitality schools, NGOs and other partners to provide free online education, expertise, opportunities and more.

We're inviting like-minded organisations to join forces with us on our mission to support hundreds of thousands of people.

Here are three reasons why your organisation should get involved...

Breaking Barriers

As a partner, you will positively impact the lives of people facing barriers to education and training by helping us provide free, self-serve and personalised education to people from a variety of backgrounds.

Upskilling

Partners help us upskill the next generation of hospitality talent through access to hundreds of self-serve educational resources on subjects such as hospitality, professional development, career planning, essential skills and mental health.

Driving employment

The IHG Skills Academy will build relationships that can lead to global opportunities among thousands of IHG hotels, as well as partner organisations. It will enable more people to access a memorable career in the hospitality industry and beyond.
